DETAILED ACTION

Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Fr 429'. Note that Fr 429' sets forth a heater R which is connected in series with a fan motor C. On page 3 and in claim 4 Fr 429 depicts the voltage over the fan as 3-5% of the line voltage. (3.6 volts) which is less than the 5 volts claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2-8 and 10-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fr 429' in view of Tomaro.

Fr 429' teaches the claimed subject matter except for showing the claimed power levels and motor winding parameters. The patent to Tomaro is applied for teaching use of series and parallel combinations of resistors, which are connected to a motor to vary the heat output of the device, thus attaining more versatility for the device and longevity for the fan motor. In view of this teaching it would have been obvious to modify the Fr system to have multiple resistors connectable in series and parallel combinations , to attain the choice of more versatile heat generating output. As per claim 3 and claim 4 Fr does set forth on page 5 that , "Other winding characteristics are achieved in other applications, in particular with a heavier wire and lower number of turns for higher currents at low voltage ". The artisan would find it obvious to use the claimed parameters in view of this Fr teaching, as long as the operating currents were known. Note that as per claim 8 that Tomaro teaches two thermostats for controlling the system , as claimed, in Figure 2.
